More Difficult Route(North trail)

The route to the north is meant to be traveled in one directional ONLY, from the trailhead out to the overlook. and then returning on the south trail. This route is More difficult with longer sustained hill climbing and a longer length. There are two viewpoints along this trail with views of the mountain scenery.

Easier Route (South trail)

The route to the south is designed to be EASIER than the north route . It is wider and has less sustained hill climbing. This route leads directly to the overlook.
